Bay Window Treatments

If you are looking for bay window treatments, you might consider the following guidelines in choosing the best that your money can afford. There is no ground rule when it comes to window treatments. Your best bet is to find the kind of treatment that meet the needs of your family, and at the same time will be a beautiful complement to your home design. The important point is to choose what you like based on your personal taste and preference. Remember to choose window treatments that complement your other home furnishings. They should be coordinated with your home decors, but need not match exactly. With the use of beautiful textures and contrasting colors, you can add spunk and refresh the look and feel of your home.A lot of simple styles of curtains, valances and shades are available as window dressings. Remember to keep everything in order and balance. Do not overpower the space with the use of contrasting fabrics and colors. Keep everything minimal. If you are making use of several types of fabrics in a particular room, choose a window treatment that is more subdued or a matching fabric. Simple fabric shades are great for tying together various patterns and colors and they are easy to make. Using twice the fabric in a given space, whether it is left over material or new material, allows you to cut pieces from different pieces and cover a large, bay window. Remember to cut the fabric slightly larger to make way for seam allowances. If you cut a half to one inch from each side, it should be enough s. Before shopping for bay window treatments, keep in mind that the treatments should complement your existing home dcor.
