Walking safaris run in conservancies, not the national reserve, with an armed guide and usually a second spotter. Groups are small, often four to six guests.

The pace is slow and the focus is masai mara luxury tented camp tracking: prints, scat, birds and plant exclusive luxury safari use. You will not cover the distance a vehicle does.

Fitness matters less than heat tolerance, and minimum ages usually apply. Wear neutral colours and closed boots. Walks are the best way to understand how the ecosystem fits together, but they are not for everyone. Operators offering walks are at %LINK%.
