Valve, the developer of Counter-Strike, has taken a firmer position against third-party gambling sites that utilize their Steam API for industrial functions. This has resulted in a number of waves of "restriction hammers," where website bots are disabled, efficiently cleaning out the stocks of these platforms.

Additionally, numerous nations are introducing stringent gambling policies that need platforms to carry out KYC (Know Your Customer) checks and verify the age of users. This is slowly pressing the market towards a more official, albeit more limiting, environment.
