What is the IELTS?

Collectively handled by the British Council, IDP: IELTS Australia, and Cambridge Assessment English, the IELTS <https://andrewielts.com/> examines the English language efficiency of non-native speakers. It evaluates all 4 language abilities: Listening, Reading, Writing, and Speaking.

The Two Versions of IELTS

Before registering for the test, candidates must figure out which variation lines up with their particular objectives:

1. IELTS Academic: Designed for people wanting to pursue greater education or expert registration (e.g., medical professionals and nurses) in an English-speaking environment. The test examines whether the prospect is prepared to study or train in English.
2. IELTS General Training: Suitable for those migrating to English-speaking nations (such as Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the UK) or getting secondary education, training programs, and work experience.

Structure of the Examination

Both versions of the test share the very same Listening and Speaking modules, but function unique Reading and Writing components. The total test time is 2 hours and 45 minutes.

Section	Duration	Key Focus Areas
Listening	30 minutes (+ 10 minutes transfer time)	Four recordings of native speakers (monologues and conversations), answering 40 concerns.
Reading	60 minutes	3 long texts varying from descriptive to analytical, addressing 40 concerns.
Writing	60 minutes	Two tasks: Task 1 (explain visual data or compose a letter) and Task 2 (write an essay).
Speaking	11-- 14 minutes	In person interview with an inspector, making up a personal intro, long-turn speak, and two-way conversation.

Deep Dive into the Four Modules

1. Listening
